The figure of the amber keeper is deeply rooted in mythological traditions across various cultures, particularly in regions bordering the Baltic Sea, where amber has been cherished since prehistoric times. In Baltic mythology, the amber keeper often manifests as a guardian spirit or deity associated with the Baltic Sea and the treasures it bestows. The myth suggests that amber, often called "the tears of the gods" or "sweat of the sun," is preserved by divine custodians who protect it from theft and decay.

In Greek mythology, amber was linked to the myth of Phaethon, the son of Helios, who lost control of his chariot, causing the sun to scorch the earth and creating tears that fell into the sea, forming amber. While not explicitly called "keepers," these myths emphasize the preciousness and divine association of amber, implying the existence of custodians or protectors of this treasure.

Historical Significance of Amber

Historically, amber has served as a valuable commodity for thousands of years, prized for its beauty, supposed healing properties, and mystical qualities.
